The diagram shows a form layout within a rectangular frame. At the top left, a label '3' with a curved line points to the top-left corner of the frame. On the right side, a label '12' with a curved line points to the right edge of the frame. The form contains several input fields represented by boxes of varying sizes. The 'Last' field is a 7-box row. The 'M.I.' field is a single box. The 'First' field is an 8-box row. Below these is the 'Address' section, consisting of three stacked 16-box rows. Below the address is the 'SS Number' section, consisting of three stacked 4-box rows. Below the SS number is the 'Telephone' section, consisting of three stacked 4-box rows. Below the telephone is the 'Facsimile' section, consisting of three stacked 4-box rows. On the left side, a label '12' with a curved line points to the left edge of the frame, specifically near the bottom of the form.

The diagram illustrates a form layout within a rectangular frame labeled '3'. The form contains several input fields, some of which are filled with black bars representing data. The fields are organized as follows: a row with 'Last', 'M.I.', and 'First' fields; a section labeled 'Address' containing three stacked horizontal input fields; a section labeled 'SS Number' containing three small input fields; a section labeled 'Telephone' containing three small input fields; and a section labeled 'Facsimile' containing three small input fields. Labels '12' and '13' are used to point to specific elements: '12' points to the 'First' field, the top of the 'Address' section, and the 'Facsimile' section; '13' points to the 'Last' field, the 'M.I.' field, each of the three 'Address' fields, each of the three 'SS Number' fields, each of the three 'Telephone' fields, and each of the three 'Facsimile' fields.
